About the Immigration Procedures (Student Visa Procedures)

■ Individuals advancing to higher education from a Japanese language school

- If you currently reside in Japan and have the “Student” status of residence, you must renew your period of stay.
- You can submit the Application for Extension of Period of Stay from three months before the end of the period of stay. You must go to the Immigration Services Agency on your own to submit the Application for Extension of Period of Stay. Please consult with the school about the necessary documents.
- Your Japanese language school attendance rate will continue to be important after you pass the Akademeia 21st Century entrance exam.
Your attendance rate at the Japanese language school will also be submitted to the Immigration Services Agency when you renew your period of stay after you have been admitted to an Akademeia 21st Century school.
Even if you have been admitted to an Akademeia 21st Century school, low attendance at the Japanese language school may result in denial of your extension of period of stay.

■ Individuals residing in Japan with a status of residence other than “Student” (Working Holiday, etc.)

- Please consult with the school prior to applying if you have a status of residence other than “Student.”
- Before being admitted to the school, you may need to submit the Application for “Certificate of Eligibility” and Application for “Change of Status of Residence.”
- Depending on your current status of residence, you may be required to return to your home country temporarily to complete the procedures there.
